SKILLS

- Being patient
- Have multiple culture understanding
- Professional with Introspection

ACTIVITIES

I did make some accomplishments in online computer games such as "first kill" or top players vs players ranking, and I used to proud of them. Some stranger players remembered my game ID and praised me as a nice director for sharing experience. For now, I don't think I'm qualified enough to make an interesting resume. But I believe I can do much different through time.
